

Marys boychild

Long time ago in Bethlehem, so the Holy Bible said
Mary's boy child Jesus Christ, was born on Christmas Day

Hark, now hear the angels sing, a king was born today
And man will live for evermore, because of Christmas Day

While shepherds watch their flocks by night. They see a bright new shining star
They hear a choir sing a song, the music seemed to come from afar

Hark, now hear the angels sing, a king was born today
And man will live for evermore, because of Christmas Day

Now Josef and his wife Mary, came to Bethlehem that night.
They found no place to bear her child, not a single room was in sight.

Hark, now hear the angels sing, a king was born today
And man will live for evermore, because of Christmas Day